INSTALLATION CONDITIONS

The following conditions currently apply:

The specialist will be provided for a limited time at our discretion.

If the UNICOR employee cannot find their own accommodation and board within a certain distance from the work premises, the customer must take care of this. The deduction for the allowance rate is then subject to specific agreements if the customer bears the costs for accommodation and board.

The customer must provide the following at their own cost and risk in good time:

1. Support staff and skilled workers who should have been familiarised with installing and operating the machine. These staff members must follow the orders given by our employee.

2. All tools and other materials.

3. For the duration of our employee's visit, a suitable, lockable and heated room with lighting and washing facilities.

The customer must certify our employee's working time and job performance. In addition, they must be supplied with a certificate (hand-over log) to confirm that installation is complete without delay.

If commissioning is delayed but this is not the fault of UNICOR, the customer must bear all costs that arise from this, in particular, those for our employee's waiting time and any additional trips that are required.

If our employee becomes ill, we are entitled to bill the rate specified in figure 4 for the duration of their illness at the installation location. If a different UNICOR employee must relieve the original employee, the customer bears the new travel expenses.

Furthermore, if the installation takes place abroad, the customer must bear all costs for proper medical treatment, any hospital stays, etc.

Our installation bills must be paid upon receipt, without discount.

We reserve the right to make changes to the installation rates and installation conditions if required for good reason. In addition, the delivery conditions that the business transaction is subject to also apply.
